

RSPH Workshop Advanced Thesis Design: Presenting and Defending

Supervisors: Dr Maartje Janse (Leiden University) and Dr Jan Julia Zurné (Radboud University)

Date: 21 April 2023, 10.00-17.00PM

Location: IISG, Scheltemazaal, Cruquiusweg 31, 1019 AT Amsterdam

Please register before 12 January (and include a brief description of your project, see below)

This Workshop focuses on effectively presenting your PhD project before an audience of senior political history scholars and experts in your field, and responding to comments, feedback and essential critique. The emphasis is on academic debate, Q&A and presentation technique.

Preparation

In order to prepare for the workshop, we ask you to:

- A) Register at bureau@onderzoekschoolpolitiegegeschiedenis.nl. Please include a paragraph or 10 keywords describing your research project. We need this description to find suitable commentators for your presentations.

- B) Update your one-page reflection submitted for the previous workshop Advanced Thesis Design: justifying your choices. Please also include a short reflection on what you expect from this next workshop, and what you need at this stage in your research. [deadline 21 March]

Registration

Participants need to register at bureau@onderzoekschoolpolitiegegeschiedenis.nl before 12 January 2023. If registration exceeds the group limit, second-year PhD candidates have priority. After registering, you will receive a confirmation. More information about the programme will follow in due time.

Requirements and credits

1 EC: Preparing assignments and presentations for the workshop; active participation in the discussion (see the PhD curriculum for more information on credits).